PJ taste Customer Advice on Food Safety

The food which you have ordered has been produced to our expected high quality, following good standards of Food Safety and Hygiene, as required by law and declared in our own policies.

For the safety of yourselves and your guests, we ask you to continue the care given to your food by keeping it either unopened or in insulated boxes or in a refrigerator until one hour before you expect to consume it.

For food safety reasons chilled food should not be consumed after 4 hours has elapsed from it being dispatched from our kitchens. Allowing an hour for dispatch and delivery, the food provided for your event should not be consumed after 3 hours from the booked time of the food delivery for your event. If we are not able to return to clear at this time, please dispose of any food remaining to ensure that it is not consumed after this time.

Hot food should be consumed within 2 hours from it being heated (unless it has been kept hot and above 75⁰ C).

As responsible suppliers of food we know that you will appreciate receiving good advice and would appreciate if you could sign and return below to indicate your agreement with this policy. Please do contact us if you have any queries over any aspect of this guidance.
